O'SULLIVAN CREEL, LLP
Certified Public Accountants & Consultants

Information Technology

Businesses invest heavily in Information Technology in order to maintain a competitive advantage and enable company growth. O'Sullivan Creel's well-trained, experienced, and industry-certified team of technology professionals can help businesses accurately gauge the value from IT and can help identify the options that will drive growth, while streamlining cost and improving performance. As business and computer consultants, our team can assist in creating a business' technology infrastructure. Using the products of industry-leading companies, our professionals implement solutions that are stable and productive, as well as provide a solid foundation on which to build a successful, growing business.

Our technology consultants are experts in the technologies they support. The combination of technical expertise and accounting experience results in a robust and recurring return on investments for our clients.

Our areas of expertise are varied and allow us to address the many aspects of building and maintaining a technology infrastructure, including:

Consulting
