O'SULLIVAN CREEL, LLP
Certified Public Accountants & Consultants

Not-for-Profit Organizations

O'Sullivan Creel, LLP has a long history in providing accounting services to not-for-profit organizations such as charities, schools, churches, foundations, and associations. Not-for-profits are unique because donors want confidence in operations and finances and governing boards want assurance they are fulfilling their responsibilities.

In addition to providing audit, tax, and consulting services, our team continuously looks for strategies to achieve more effective operations through improvements in the use of existing resources, since the resources of many not-for-profit organizations are typically limited. A lot of times, a single person bears responsibility for multiple areas of management which can make it tough to both further the organization's objectives and meet stakeholders' requirements.

"We believe that by helping maximize revenue and minimize costs, we can help ensure a strong presence for generations to come," says Jack Rowell, partner and not-for-profit leader of O'Sullivan Creel, LLP. "We are proud to serve many of the area's charitable organizations as they strive to make a difference."

As a firm, O'Sullivan Creel has made a conscious decision to help the nonprofit community of Northwest Florida and Alabama's Gulf Coast. Our team members actively participate on nonprofit boards, and most volunteer their time with a wide range of groups to help make our communities a better place. O'Sullivan Creel is proud to support their efforts.

Always A Step Ahead.
